London, Oct. 1.---One of the esults of the British governm declaration against police rep n Ireland has been the resig f. 137 "black and tan" membe he Royal Irish constabulary at nanstown, according to the l correspondent of the Daily H The dispatch said many of participated in the Balbrigga prisals.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief retary for Ireland, addressing constabulary at the Phoenix eviews in Dublin, said that 10 licemen had been murdered and 170 wounded during the present trouble, and that 565 police barracks and court houses had been burned. He said the police had "endured intolerable provocation" but that it was "necessary to repeat that reprisals ruin discipline and cannot be countenanced by those in authority."

Greenwood assured the constabulary, however, that the government is behind them in their "difficult and dangerous duty."

Dublin advices reported that two ships were raided in the harbor there during the night by 16 armed men, who obtained a quantity of revolvers and ammunition. At O'Brien's bridge, County Clare, two policemen were shot dead.

From authoritative sources it has been learned that the government is alarmed at the rapid growth of the Sinn Fein in England. The Irish self-determination league membership has increased in the last six weeks from 35,000 to 60,000 and its dues, totalling millions of dollars a year, are being used to finance the Irish Republican movement. There are 3,000,000 Irish in England.

High School Ready For Big Game

Coach Townsend and his proteges, representing the Monessen High school on the grid'ron this season, are ready for the opening of a strenuous season tomorrow afternoon on the local grounds when they have as their opponent the strong Morgantown High school team, runners for the championship of the state of Virginia last season. The visitors will arrive in town early in the morning and will rest up for the contest which will start promptly at three o'clock. Twenty-five men will be brought to this city by the school, while a large number of loyal fans from Morgantown will accompany their favorites. The officials for the game will be Carlson of Pitt and Smith of Lafayette.

The locals were given signal practice in the gymnasium last evening, owing to the inclement weather and this evening following a light practice will receive blackboard instructions. Indications point to a record breaking crowd for the game and despite the fact that the local team will be outweighed ten pounds to a man, they are expected to make a good showing against the West Virginia champions.

Coach Townsend is well pleased with the development of his team during the past week and will have a willing bunch of substitutes on the side ready to enter the fray should the men selected to start the contest fail to live up to expectations.

The probable lineup for the game will be as follows.

Dudas or Houston, left guard.
Lebowitz, center.
Myford, right guard.
Graff, right tackle.
C. Anderson or Pillette, right end.
Capt. Hannigan, quarter back.
Schmidt, left half.
E. Anderson or Schrading, right half.
Veschio, full back.

The staffs of the fifty-fifth and fifty-seventh Bolshevik divisions were captured in that region.

The advance through the marshes of Pinsk continued successfully, the Poles claiming to have routed the sixth soviet army and occupied the railway at Sarny. Twelve thousand prisoners were captured when the Russians fled from Lida. Much valuable material fell to the Polish troops there.

Last Embargoes Lifted

The last of the embargoes against freight shipments into and out of Pittsburgh over the lines of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad was lifted yesterday and the freight patrons of the "Wabash" were notified that all lines are now clear. The incident is one of a number of recent indications of decided improvement in the freight situation in the Pittsburgh district.

On other roads there still are few embargoes, although there is a great improvement in all directions. The prohibition of shipments between Pittsburgh and Detroit over the Pennsylvania Lines is the tightest of the embargoes still in force.

Find Dead Body

(By United Press)

Uniontown, Oct. 1.---With his neck and chest riddled with gun shots, the body of Joseph Ray, aged 14 years, was found on the West Virginia side of the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line at Point Marion, near here today, by a searching party, headed by the boy's father, James Ray, of Point Marion. Parties were organized to search for his murderers. The father heard a posse last night to search for the boy, when he failed to return home from a hunt for his boy.

New York, Oct. 1.---Penn'ylvania contributed more as much as all ing for the destitute of Armenia and other states combined, according to the announcement of the Near East Relief Society. Pittsburgh alone has contributed clothing for the entire city of Erzerum, the capital of Armenia, with a population of 50,000 inhabitants.

TWO PERSONS BITTEN BY MAD CAT ARE ORDERED TO TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT

Ten Monessen people are now taking the Pasteur treatment as a result of the mad dog scare that was given the town several weeks ago and which caused Burgess Stewart to issue a proclamation enforcing the 100 day dog quarantine. Eight of the patients were bitten by dogs, which were killed, and the heads sent to Dr. Deteve, head of the Pasteur Institute in Pittsburgh, who pronounced the animals suffering from rabies.

Last Sunday a more serious menace was discovered when a cat that had been acting strangely, bit Mrs. Louis Phillips and a young lad by the name of Joseph Demota of Third street. The head of the animal was sent to Pittsburgh and yesterday word was received that it was suffering from rabies and that the persons bitten would consequently be compelled to take the Pasteur treatment. A number of the patients have been taking the treatment for several weeks and so far no serious results have occurred and none are expected to develop rabies.

The discovery of a cat with the disease has caused greater alarm among physicians than ever and a close watch is being kept on the patients and other animals in this vicinity that might have come in contact with the diseased cat. Strict enforcement of the quarantine is being carried out and in the future all stray cats will follow the path of dogs running at large and will be shot by the police.

Suspicion Has Been Lifted From Brooklyn Players

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 1.---District Attorney Lewis of Kings county, who is investigating rumors that gamblers plotted an attempt to corrupt the Brooklyn club, declared today he had found nothing to substantiate that report, and that he was "very much pleased." He questioned Sherrod Smith and Otto Miller, Brooklyn cut outs, today, and they told him they never had been approached by gamblers. Lewis will continue his investigation tomorrow, when he will question more players, and also Chas. H. Ebbetts, president of the club, and Wilbert Robinson, its manager, he said.

Chicago, Oct. 1.---Alleged "shady" baseball during 1920 will be put under the X-ray of the Cook county jury as soon as it has cleared up its probe of the alleged "throwing" of the 1919 world series.

The grand jury today resumed its inquiry into the 1919 world series. A new angle developed today was a reported plan for the quizzing of nines of baseball players as to what they know of sums of money alleged to have been received by their husbands for "fixing" games.

Reports were circulated here today specifi games which were alleged to smack of a fake character. These reports, it was believed, will be probed thoroughly by the grand jury and may result in subpoenas being issued for gamblers in Kansas City, Des Moines and cities where major league clubs were not represented but where considerable money was wagered on baseball games.

Additional evidence on the 1919 world series was expected to be handed the grand jury today by State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne. Hoyne was also expected to clear up the report that he had instructed an assistant over long distance telephone to hold up the return of the indictments. Despite these instructions the grand jury yesterday decided to proceed and today was to be sworn in as a special body to investigate alleged crooked baseball.

Hoyne is bringing with him from New York the names of two men said to possess important information regarding gambling on "fixed" baseball. It is said the new information corroborates the confessions of Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, suspended White Sox players.

The Cincinnati Reds' side of the story of the 1919 world series was to be told the grand jury today by Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati club.

Unconfirmed reports were still circulated today that other suspended White Sox players were planning to make confessions.

In additional to Herrmann, Ira L. Pettyman, White Sox scout, Clyde Elliott, motion picture man, and several others were called to testify today.

Cub ball players may be summoned next week to testify as to their knowledge of the alleged "thrown" game of August 31 between the Cubs and Philadelphia.

New indictments were expected to be voted by the grand jury today. Exhibit 'A' pieces and two gamblers already have been voted and today's indictments are expected to add three more.

The White Sox that had gone thru the Wash and came out clean were in St. Louis today fighting for the pennant. Badly riddled by the loss of their two star pitchers, third base man, shortstop and two outfielders the prospects of the once famous baseball machine were gauged confident.

G.O.P. United

(By United Press)

Marion, O., Oct. 1.---All elements of the Republican party are united on the League of Nations issue, according to a statement made here today by Senator Warren G. Harding in refuting reports circulated that Senators Johnson and Borah were going to quit the stump on this account. Senator Harding said the story was untrue and that Hoover and Taft, who represented the pro-League element in the party, would take the stump within a short time. In speaking to a large delegation of women here the Republican candidate stated that he favored the creation of a Federal department of Public Welfare as a practical step towards administering a program of social justice and that he favored an eight-hour day for women, also a living wage and equal pay for equal work without discrimination as to sex.

Murder Suspect

Had not a bank messenger of the Citizens Deposit & Trust Company, Sharpsburg, been held up and robbed at the Butler street car loop, the alleged murderer of a Cleveland saloonkeeper might not now be lying in the Westmoreland county jail.

Following the Butler street holdup authorities of all adjacent counties were notified to watch roads leading from Pittsburgh. A detachment of state police from Bedford arrested a party of men in an automobile near Laughlinstown where, it is alleged, after purchasing oil and gasoline, they struck a garage keeper on the head with a handy-billy and attempted to escape without paying their bill. They were suspected of the Pittsburgh holdup and, police say, were riding in a machine stolen in Detroit, Mich.

Pictures of members of the party were sent broadcast through police agencies and recently the state police received word from Cleveland that the picture of Robert Rankin, one of the party, had been picked from the photographs of the group as a suspect in the murder of the saloon keeper.

Mother of Twins Guilty

Ottawa, Sept. 30.---Mrs. Marie Anne Heudie Gagnon, mother of twins born in prison two months ago, and who was sentenced to be executed tomorrow at Quebec after having been found guilty of murder, will serve a life sentence in the penitentiary, noted, as the result of a decision by the cabinet council made public today.

Test mony of physicians submitted to the cabinet showed that the execution of Mrs. Gagnon would jeopardize the life of her babies. Mrs Gagnon was convicted of murdering her step-daughter under conditions of extreme cruelty.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

STRIKES NATONIAL LIABILITY

It may seem a bit strange that any person would seriously advocate the continuance of the strike as a method of bringing about a settlement between employers and employees, but labor still has some members who refuse to profit by the experience of the past.

Statistics have been produced to show that there were 3,374 strikes in the United States during 1919, and the fact that these figures are so definite does not mean that all of the labor troubles during the year are included in this record.

In spite of the high wages and the fact that practically every large manufacturing industry has been supplied with orders for long runs, some of the most trivial excuses have been registered as causes for calling a halt in operations.

The strike against the United States Steel Corporation in the midsummer and the strike of bituminous miners in the late fall are the ones affecting the largest number of persons, but the hundreds of minor troubles form in the aggregate a serious indictment of the strike method.

It would be impossible to gather the figures which represent the losses, direct and indirect, which resulted from these strikes. The workers, as usual, were the greatest losers in wages, but employers and the public were heavy sufferers by the suspension of work.

There might be some justification of the strike if workers could be made the beneficiaries in any way, but the record does not show that anything has been gained which would not have been possible by adoption of the policy of mediation when disputes arise There is much to be learned from these figures that will be beneficial to both capital and labor.

NOT ALL DUE THE PILGRIMS

One of the curious not to say remarkable events of our time is the celebration of the sailing and landing of the so-called pilgrims who bestowed themselves upon what is now the state of Massachusetts. The leading lights of Great Britain took part in the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the sailing, conducted at Plymouth, England, and marked by astounding exhibitions of cordiality toward America and much "hands across the sea" oratory. On this side of the ocean the celebration of the anniversary of the landing is to be a big thing along the same line, with the president's yacht designed for the use of the British visitors.

These celebrations are curious because they are so strikingly illustrative of human stupidity and humbuggery. Now if the landing of John Smith in Virginia were to be made the subject of international celebration there would be something in it. At least the Smiths could go into it with a whole heart on both sides of the Atlantic and give the expressions of international cordiality some semblance of sincerity.

But the Pilgrims! Why single them out as the vehicle for the establishment of a new and more real international comity

These people were driven out of England because they and their ideas were not welcome there. And if the same group entertaining the same ideas arrived at Ellis Island today the United States would not let them land. That is especially true in these anti-soviet times, for [illegible] Pilgrims held all their property in common until they found that scheme would not work, just as the Russians are finding it out now.

The religious intolerants who settled Massachusetts, pilgrims and puritans alike, were exemplary of nothing in Britain or the United States today. Witch burning and Quaker hanging were popular sports in the early days of New England Yet, so fond are we of humbug, we now make the sailing and landing of the Pilgrims the occasion of an international celebration as though these people represented the beginning of all that is great and good in both countries.

The sailing and landing of John Smith would come much nearer hitting the spot.

The desire of young men to display their vocal gifts appears to have somewhat declined since prohibition came in.

There is no reason why producers should reduce their prices if they don't want to. They have a perfect right to hold their stock and pay interest and storage on it as long as they desire.

The folks who kicked on the hot days of August, will soon be complaining about the chills of October.

A lot of people don't seem to be doing much work, but anyway they hang on to their tools so no one can run away with them.

The open season for October wedding coupleh is now on, and all kinds of weapons are permissible except flame throwers and gas bombs.

Baggage rates to be put up. It costs good money to hire your trunks smashed expertly.

Nature's Unchanging Way.

Outstanding ability is the reward of using the power one has. The best athlete in the world will lose power by hanging around. Resistance is the response of nature to testings. Difficulties are never made easy by giving up. Nature demands that men gain strength by using strength. Turn what you have to account and nature will add to your store with interest. The more you love the larger capacity you have to love. The more you think the keener your thinking ability becomes. The harder and more surely you work the more you are able to. There's no secret about it. It's just nature's way of saying "to him that hath shall be given." And more than that, if you want anything from nature you must bestir yourself and get it. Nature is not a grudging giver, but she makes men earn all they get.

Only "Load Up" Right.

The tasks you add to your already full program must be related to your life work. The magnet won't hold soap, and froth and wood. Its affinity is with things of steel. So your efforts must be related to your talents and experience if they are to be a help in your growth. One added task above your specialty would be enough to swamp a man who doesn't know your line. To you it's just another added opportunity. To be sure it will require some effort, but nothing in comparison to what it would require in others. You take the load on unconsciously. It's merely another run or two of the kind you do right along. But in time those few extra daily turns make you a tower of strength. There is no limit to your development when you load up right—Grit.

Too Tame for Him.

"Gibson likes to hear the sound of his own voice."

"That explains his penchant for monologues. But if he loves the sound of his own voice so much why doesn't he talk into a phonograph and have his remarks 'canned' for future use?"

"He wouldn't have the satisfaction of seeing the phonograph writhe and fidget."

Has Served Country Well.

Senor Portal, for the last 30 years the leading journalist of Peru and the author of 12 "best sellers" in that country has done for his native land what Luis Taboada did for Spain Mark Twain for the United States and, long ago, Moliere for France; while waging war with his pen, he has created true literature Thirty years ago when he laid down the sword he had cut out with honor through the Peruvian struggle with Chile he took up arms against every intolerable weakness, shortcoming, sin, and vice of his fellow countrymen, and by laughter provoking sarcasm and searching irony he has depicted all the wickedness in which those —and particularly Peruvian lesbians —indulge.

MAN'S FIRST DWELLING PLACE

Scientists Claim That the Desert of Gobi Must for Natural Reasons Be the Spot.

The desert of Gobi, which is the summit of the central steppe in Asia, is the most elevated region on the globe, and it is here, scientists claim, man first lived, arguing that this point of earth must have been the first to emerge from the universal sea, and that as the subsiding waters gradually gave up lower regions of earth to man he was able to descend and spread himself progressively over new acquisitions.

It is from this region that the great rivers of Asia also take their rise and flow toward the four cardinal points. On the declivities of these highlands are the plains of Tibet, lower than the frozen regions of Gobi. Here are found not only the vine, the olive, rice, the leguminа, and other plants on which man has depended for sustenance, but also those animals which he has tamed and led with him over the earth, as the ox, the horse, the ass, the sheep the goat, the camel, the hog, the dog, and even the reindeer, run wild upon these mountains. On the mountains of Cashmire in Tibet, and in the north of China, grain has been found to be growing wild for years without ever being sown or tilled, and here also wild animals that have lived there while man has tamed others of the same species, are numerous.—Exchange.

Mrs. Roosevelt Takes Stump For Harding

New York, Sept. 30.---Mrs. Edith Roosevelt, widow of former President Theodore Roosevelt, tonight appealed to the "manhood and womanhood of America" to elect Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge, Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates.

In a statement dated at Sagamore Hill Oyster Bay, and given out by the Republican National Committee, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"The country's vital need is the election of the Republican candidates, Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge. Only will the full measure of Americanism in the next administration be attained, if the people shall declare for the party which holds true nationalism as its aim. It is not necessary to forget party to our neighbor in doing our duty at home.

"The time appeals most strongly to the manhood and the womanhood of America to act as never more than ever before, because to her has come the wonderful opportunity to make her power mighty in behalf of the world.

"We must act as never before, with high ideals as they are, steadfast and strong as those of American forefathers are obligatory if we would bring back our country to its place and then by strong endeavor do all that can be done for it and the general welfare in all the world."

Automobiles Not Classed as Non-Essentials

Wide circulated reports that the Federal Reserve Board had classed automobiles with non-essentials and ordered member banks to restrict the financing of automobile accounts were emphatically denied by Gov. William P. G. Harding at the meeting in Cleveland of credit and advertising sections of the Motor and Accessory Manufacturers Association.

The unmistakable terms used by Gov. Harding in denying the erroneous reports will have a most beneficial effect upon the automotive industry. Now that the exact attitude of the reserve board has been clearly stated, the industry can go ahead without being hampered by unwarranted restriction.

"Nothing has been done by the Federal Reserve Board," said Gov. Harding, "that reflects in any manner upon one of the greatest industries in the country. It would be a serious thing for any body of men to attack or attempt to destroy a business as firmly rooted and having as many elements of essentiality as the automotive industry. So far as the Federal Reserve Board is concerned, no such attempts have been or will be made."

Mr. Harding said the dissemination of the reports that the board had ruled against the industry were probably due to the natural reluctance of some bankers to say no to an applicant for credit when it may mean the loss of an account. On investigation, he said, it had been found that many bankers had followed the lines of least resistance and had "passed the buck" to the Federal Reserve Board.

Although Gov. Harding said that "conservatism" would be the order of the day for some time to come, he assured the association of the nation's sound and healthy condition.

"Business generally is looking forward," he said. "I feel that we are on a much firmer foundation than we were seven or eight months ago. The country is recovering from the late era of extravagance. We must keep our heads and do business along safe and conservative lines and everything will turn out all right.

Cheaper to Travel by Auto Than by Train

Economy of traveling by automobile as compared with traveling on the railroads is emphasized by the recently authorized increase of 20 per cent. in railroad passenger fares and 50 per cent in the cost of parlor and sleeping car accommodations. The increase in cost is so marked that is will undoubtedly have an appreciable effect on the amount of travel the next year.

Under the new schedule of passenger fares, it would cost a family of four $28.80 to make a trip of 200 miles. The same trip, if made in an automobile, would cost less than half that amount. The gasoline bill would not run more than $5.00 and the wear on tires, oil, depreciation of the car would not exceed another $5.00.

The trip could be made in approximately the same time by auto as by train and with less inconvenience. There would be no trouble about getting to the station on time, no porters to tip, and no bother about luggage. Moreover, the party could stop as long as desired at any pretty place along the road.

These factors will be carefully considered by persons who do considerable traveling, and many cars will be bought and used during the coming year by those who in the past considered them only as a "luxury" for the well to do.

The increase of 33 1-3 per cent in freight rates is also expected to stimulate motor truck transportation, particularly since the wide spread obstacles to this form of transporting goods. The advantages of truck transportation are so many that a slight difference in cost will be disregarded.

Professor Tanner Asserts New Tonic Has No Equal After He Analyses Earle's Hypo-Cod

More Powerful. More Readily Assimilated. An Ideal Tonic.

HE CONGRATULATES MANUFACTURERS

The glowing tribute paid Earle's Hypo-Cod by Professor T. Bernard Tanner, M. Sc., P. D., the famous Philadelphia Analytical and Consulting Chemist, verifies all that has been previously said by scores of other well known experts.

In view of such unqualified endorsements, a copy of Professor Tanner's following, it is no wonder that leading druggists are everywhere endorsing and introducing Earle's Hypo-Cod in preference to other tonics.

"During the past several weeks, I had occasion to examine a number of preparations of Cod Liver Oil in various combinations. Among these preparations brought to my attention was Earle's Hypo-Cod and I feel it my duty to add my opinion to that of several of my friends and colleagues with reference to the merits of Hypo-Cod.

"In my opinion it is the best balanced Cod Liver Oil preparation on the market today and contains more of the active principles of Cod Liver Oil, deprived of the fatty, nauseating effects than any other similar preparation. This combined with the quantity of Malt which is present in Hypo-Cod and the combined Hypo-Phosphites of Lime, Soda, Potash, Manganese, Iron, Quinine and Strychnine, make Hypo-Cod an ideal reconstructive tonic and tissue builder.

"The pleasant aramotic taste obtained by the use of oils, which, in themselves aids in the preparation being readily assimilated which is not the case in preparations of Cod Liver Oil having a disagreeable taste.

"I believe you are doing a real service to humanity in manufacturing Hypo-Cod and congratulate you on developing such a splendid preparation." (Signed) T. Bernard Tanner, M. Sc., P. D., Analytical and Consulting Chemist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Read what others say in articles appearing almost daily in this paper about Hypo-Cod. Drop in at the drug store tonight and take home a couple bottles with you of this more modern and superb tonic. Learn what a splendid tonic and builder it is. All good druggists. It

DIZZINESS CAUSES FALL—HEAD INJURED

"A year ago my stomach bloated so badly with gas that I fell unconscious and cut my head badly on corner of door. I had suffered from stomach trouble for several years and no medicine helped me to speak of. A druggist patched up my head and advised me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for my stomach trouble. The results have really been quite wonderful. I have never had any sign of my former symptons since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Craig's Drug store and druggists everywhere. It

WHITES TO ABSORB MAORIS?

That Fate, Rather Than Extinction, Said to Be Assured to New Zealand Tribe.

The ingenuous explanation that they wouldn't have eaten neighbors had beef, mutton or pork been more abundant on the early New Zealand market stamps the native Maoris as a race with working brains and their physiques have long been praised It's not surprising, therefore that, as a correspondent records, these aborginals are among the few in modern times who instead of promptly vanishing will doubtless be absorbed into the white man's family

Fifty thousand pure-bred Maoris still remain half of whom are practically civilized Many have attained to high political position There are four Maori members in the house of representatives, two in the legislative council and one is an important minister in the executive council

Themselves Polynesians of remote East Indian blood, these natives, be it added, are not strictly aborigonals They are thought to have "displaced, a la table d'hote, some 500 years ago a savory stock of Melanesians or Papuans."
